IN THE age-old experiment of living on the earth, the scientific spirit and the religious spirit have worked, but not always hand in hand. Often in the conflict of these vital principles, parts of the same truth, there have been violent misunderstandings, persecutions—even death. But today, we feel that God has revealed Himself in all creation, in the hieroglyphics of the rocks as well as on the pages of Holy writ.

The Union of Science and Religion, a dream of Dr. E. Stanley Jones, is the theme for our yearbook—a theme which he believes possible of realization on such a campus as ours here at Florida Southern.

Many heroic souls make up the vanguard of Truth in both Science and Religion; but of this host, it has been possible to select only a few to show the growth of the Union of these forces from the beginning of the Christian era to the present time.

The murals at the beginning of each of the five sections were chosen to portray the significant eras or events in that period. The sub-theme portraits of great scientists and spiritual leaders further accentuate the progress toward understanding and unity. May these questing spirits of the past enrich the minds of those who make up the Greater Florida Southern!

FLORIDA SOUTHERN COLLEGE

LAKELAND, FLORIDA

LUDD M SPIVEY PRESIDENT

TO THE STUDENTS OF
FLORIDA SOUTHERN COLLEGE

We have just finished another year in Florida Southern College together. That it has been a high year both for the college and for ourselves, I believe that we shall all agree. It has been a time for advancement all along the line.

While the college has been growing each of us has felt himself expanding. We have felt the glory of belonging to something that is significant. We ourselves have been aware that new meaning and new powers have come into our souls.

A whole host of students are going out of these halls forever. One of the distressing penalties of being the president of a college is again and again to watch these friends of mine go from Florida Southern.

To those who go and those who stay I offer my best wishes.

Time will not break our ties with our Alma Mater. More and more we shall find that Florida Southern has done something fine for all of us.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, was founded August 12, 1925, at Fairmont State College, Fairmont, West Virginia. The Delta Nu Cast of this college is the hundred and ninth of the hundred and fifty active chapters. Organized in 1934 by Miss Marguerite Wills, head of the Speech Department, Josephine Greismer, Clayton Calhoun, John Permenter, John Bryson, Loren Hall, Wayne McMullen, Marion Daniel, Ashley Calhoun, Ross Swartzel, Linda Mason, and Loyal Frisbie were charter members. There are now thirteen active members. The purpose of this organization is to stimulate interest in dramatic activities, and to serve as a reward for students' worthy efforts in participating in the plays staged by the Southern Vagabonds. Membership in Delta Nu Cast of Alpha Psi Omega is the highest dramatic honor offered at Florida Southern College.

VAGABONDS

The Southern Vagabonds is the oldest and most active club on the campus. Organized in 1925 to "Promote Southern through Dramatics and Dramatics through Southern," its membership consists of those students who love the drama and will make a name for Southern by sending out "road companies" to present the Vagabond plays all over Florida. "The Vagabonds of the Air" and the class in Radio Programs are an outgrowth of the Vagabonds.

Their slogan, "It's a Vagabond Play, So It Has to Be Good," has stood behind an average of five major plays a year for twelve years. All this has been made possible by the excellent and untiring efforts of Miss Marguerite Wills, head of the Speech Department.

The Static Club was organized in 1934 by Lionel Nelson for the purpose of developing radio technique as well as promoting radio interest among the students of Florida Southern College. The charter members were Wallace Gause, Linda Mason, Loyal Frisbie, Warren Willis, Bob Gisler, Howren Norton, Morion Danel, Madeline Buckles, and Joe Bird. At present the club has twenty-two members.

STATIC CLUB

Warren Willis is president and director of the campus studio. Sunday afternoon programs are regularly broadcast by the Static Club over WFLA in Tampa, and eleven radio programs a week are broadcast from the campus studio through remote control of WLAK. Membership in the Static Club is the highest honor one can receive in radio work in Florida Southern College.

Intra-Mural Champions

The debate season opened with an intra-mural debate tournament in which the Beta Mus and the Alpha Chi Omegas emerged victorious. Southern participated in two practice tournaments, one at Stetson University, the other at the University of Florida. A number of exhibition debates were held during the year before the high schools in the state.

The Young Women's Christian Association was brought to Florida Southern College on October 4, 1922. The members of the association unite in the desire to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. They determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people. In this task they seek and follow Him. All women students of the college are eligible for membership. During this year there have been approximately 100 members in the organization. The activities include morning watch services, socials, community service work, and work of general interest about the campus, trying always to further the spiritual life of the women students.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The publication of an annual is successful, first, to the degree that it is the product of the multiplied cooperation of each unit; second, to the degree that it represents equally the organizations which go to make up the campus life.

The appreciated cooperation on the part of the Administration, the students, the photographer, the advertisers, the printers, and the engravers has done much to make the publication of this annual exceedingly enjoyable. But such cooperation is, more or less, to be expected. It is therefore necessary to make mention of those whose special services and considerations have added more fully to the enjoyment of the publication.

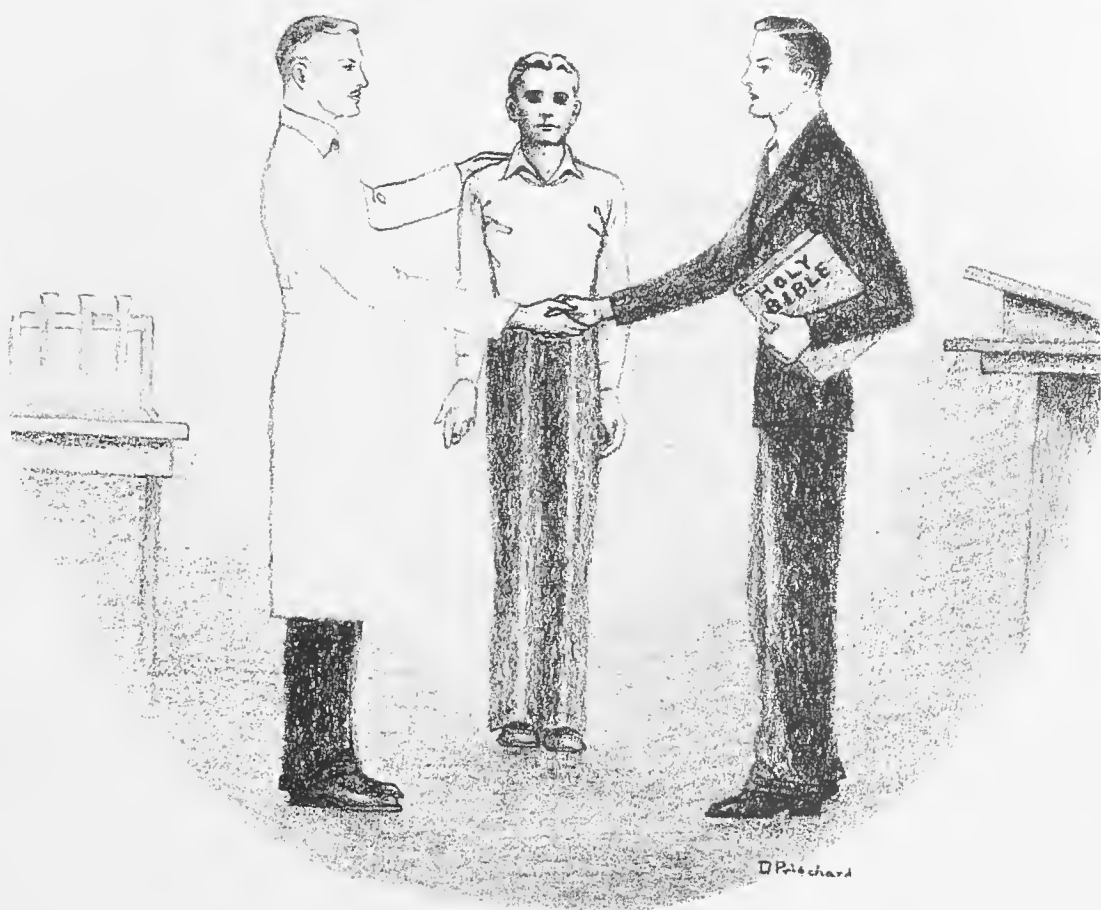

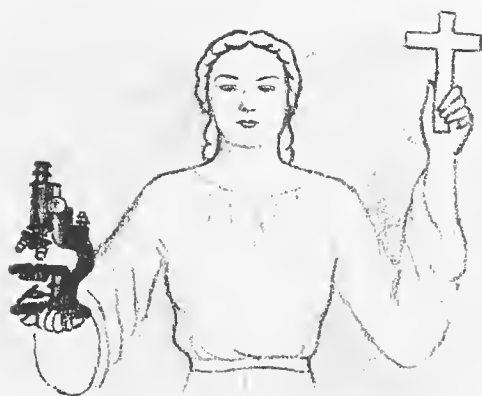

To Mrs. J. S. Purcell, adviser, the editor owes his sincerest appreciation for her splendid commendable detail work on the theme for the book. It was only through her untiring efforts for perfection that such complete correlation and sequence has been made possible. Working in close coordination with Mrs. Purcell, Miss Dorothy Pritchard has given unstintedly of her time and talent to portray the process of the unifying of Science and Religion. The criticism and advice of other members of the faculty must be recognized.

For the special helpful suggestions in the arranging and compiling of the book, the editor is most grateful to Mr. A. J. Meyer, of the Tampa Photo Engraving Company; Mr. C. E. Shepherd, of the Record Printing Company; and to Mr. Murray Meores, student and photographer.

To Mr. Ralph Purcell, business manager, and to the typists who have responded to the demands made, not only on their classroom hours, but also on their hours of vacation and holiday;

Lastly, to the entire Interlachen Staff of 1938 for their assistance in the compilation of this yearbook, the editor expresses his personal thanks.

MAURIECE FELTON, Editor.

Religion is willing to join hands with Science in evolving the technique to meet the needs of mankind.

TWO significant incidents—the first year participation of Lambda Chi Alpha in intramural sports, and the stunning announcement of the Beta Mu-Pi Kappa merger scheduled for next September—marked the third year intramural athletic program for men, under the capable direction of Coach Bill Battle.

In the two previous years of intramural sports, Beta Mu was first to claim the crown with Pi Kappa taking possession of the coveted trophy last year. But the proof that the Florida Southern athletic program is to be dominated no longer by the above mentioned fraternities was shown when the Lambda Chi Alpha football team pulled two surprise wins to gain a tie for the championship with Beta Mu and Pi Kappa.

Not satisfied with this achievement, the new national organization ousted Pi Kappa from the lead in the race for the Jaycee cup, by virtue of the shuffleboard championship garnered shortly before Christmas holidays.

SIEVERT

WILKES

Even though this copy must go to press before the termination of the athletic events, it is quite possible that the Lambda Chis will rise from third place to be crowned as champs.

The other incident mentioned deserves consideration in this year-book because it marks the end of a 13-year rivalry between Beta Mu and Pi Kappa—a rivalry so intense as not to have an equal in the history of our college.

From 1925 to 1934 members of the two groups played together on intercollegiate athletic teams, but with the end of competition with other colleges in sports came a more dogged type of play whenever the two teams met.

Both sorrow and joy is the reaction of the students to the "burning of the axe." Those who dislike the merger are mainly of that opinion because there will no longer be the chance of watching two determined teams play as bitterly as have the Pi Kappas and Beta Mus.

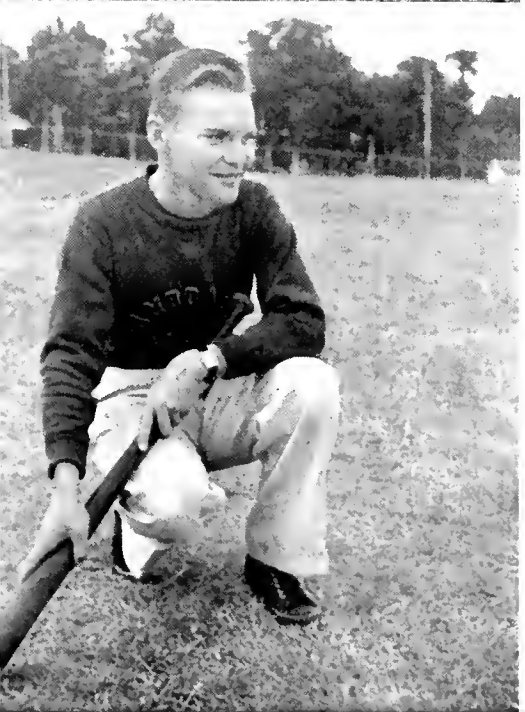

Touch Football

Beta Mu and Pi Kappa played in the first game of the first round with the victor slated to take the lead in the pigskin sport. A rain-soaked field greeted the combatants. Both teams threatened to score, but the timekeeper's whistle halted the contest before either team had crossed the yard dirt marker.

Then, the second round started, and with it, surprises! First of all, Pete Burges and his Lambda Chi seven rose up and eked out a 6-2 win over a hobbled Pi Kappa team. Merely luck and freaks was the comment of the majority of students. But that was not the case. A West-to-Wilkes pass in the first half brought a 6-2 win over a Beta Mu team which was prepared for the improved Lambda Chi outfit.

Again the Pi Kappas and the Beta Mus met in the final game, and just as occurred in the two previous years, this game's result was to decide the championship. Perfect football weather greeted the gridders as they warmed up for the contest. Soon after the opening whistle, Captain Carter began tossing passes which consistently hit their mark. One drive was halted inside the ten-yard line, but the Betas were not to be denied. Again they passed and ran the ball within scoring range.

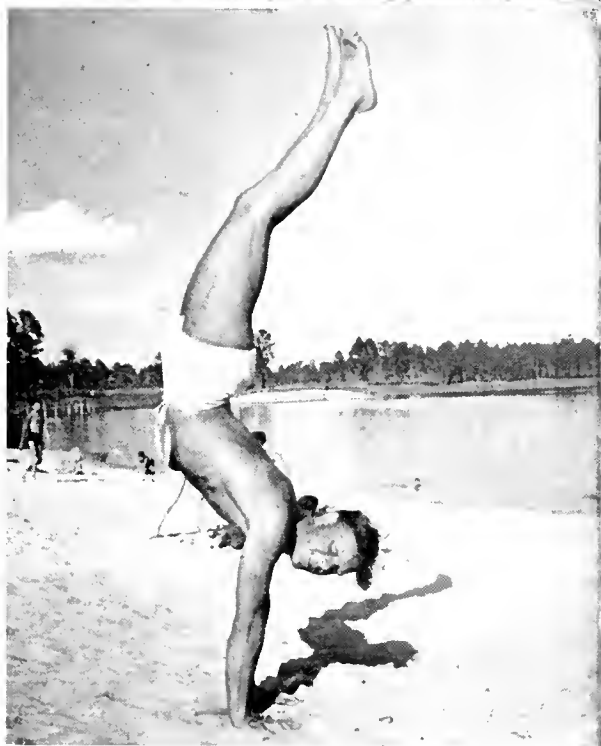

On fourth down and five yards from the goal, Carter faked back and flipped a flat pass to fleet freshman Bidde who fell across the goal line for six points.

In the second half Dudley, Barnett and Curry of the Pi Kappas led their team in some beautiful offensive football. Dudley leaped high in the air and pulled a long aerial to his chest for a 40-yard gain. Then, on running plays and in short passes they advanced to the ten-yard marker. It was there that the Pi Kappas executed a play that the writer and many spectators believe to be by far the most outstanding of the season.

The ball was snapped to Dudley who ran wide to the right end. Curry remained on his knees until the play was well under way, then ran to the unprotected left side of the field. As the Beta Mus closed on Dudley, he pivoted, leaped into the air and threw a long diagonal pass to Curry who was ten yards from any other player. Calmly he caught the pass, touching it to the ground to tie the score at 6-6.

Neither team was able to break the deadlock. This tie game left Beta Mu Pi Kappa and Lambda Chi Alpha in a three-way claim on the championship. Though no all-star team was selected by the intramural board, there were men from every fraternity who deserve recognition for their outstanding performances.

Horseshoes

On September and October the intramural horseshoe title was won by the Phi Kappa team, without the loss of a single match. With Walter Pace, Marvin Barnett, Clarence Thacher, Ben Curry, Bill Ennis, and Ed Wilson, the Phi Kappa sextet proved to be too strong for the other teams.

The individual horseshoe tournament was won by one whose athletic prowess had been displayed in a number of previous seasons, Marvin Barnett. The final round which pitted two roommates against each other was a fine exhibition of pit-hin.

Volleyball

"Set-up, then smash!" These were the instructions which could be heard as the teams practiced for volleyball. Defending champion Phi Kappa, with the loss of two first-stringers from the previous year's team, was not strong enough to withstand the onslaught of Gardner Willies' Lambda Chi sextet.

The surprise of the tournament came when Chi Rho humbled Beta Mu with result that John Briley was the host of the victors at a downtown restaurant. A talented team mustered enough courage to challenge the champs, but failed to furnish much competition after Phi Kappa tired in the first five minutes of play.

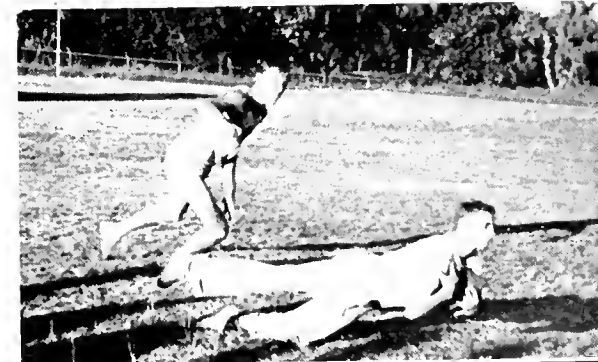

Table Tennis

The defending champion, beta Mu, was determined to retain the crown, in spite of the stiffened competition from the other team. With Newell Cook, A. C. Shepard, Fred Jaeger, and George Hayes, the beta Mus went through the tournament undefeated until the final game with Phi Kappa. The defeat came when Smith took the measure of Shepard in the former's best form of the red on A-wood. Barnett won his match.

Barnett successfully defended his individual championship for the second time against Fred Jaeger.

Shuffleboard

The Lambda Chi Alpha team which took the cup in this sport was composed of Gardner W. Lee, Pete Burgess, Winifred Rider, Eugene East, Warren Green, and George Hayman. Chi Phi was second with a record of five wins and three losses.

Basketball

From the viewpoint of the fan, the intramural basketball season was all that could be desired. The games were well played, and the new "hot" uniforms and were full of thrills and display of sportmanship.

Two top teams fought out the first game of the season, which was predicted to be close. Lambda Chi, hand-capped by the loss of West, was no match for the purple and white quintet in the name of Beta Mu. At the end of the game, the score read: Beta Mu 10, Lambda Chi 1. Deen and Bidde led the victor, with ten points each.

What came as mild surprise was the victory, which Lambda Chi took from the Pi Kappa 19-27. Stephens and White led for high point honors, each making nine points.

The next contest saw a record set which may be maintained in the intramural sports for a number of years. It was a game in which the Beta Mus eked out a hard-fought battle from Chi Phi by the slim margin of 67 points. After the score was posted, Beta Mu 100, Chi Rho 1. Jay Deen had set another record by dropping 44 points through the netting.

With ten seconds left to play and Beta Mu leading Pi Kappa 52-51, Albert Adams, a guard on the latter team, dropped a shot from near mid-court to bring a hard-earned victory to his team.

In the final game of the season, the championship went to Beta Mu, when a second team, aided somewhat by four regulars, defeated Pi Kappa in an extra period, 17-1. The purple and whiteagers also capped the final shooting trophy with Barnett finishing the individual tournament.

Tennis

Before the matches began, beta Mu was conceded to retain the championship by the Southern Sports columnist, Pete Burgess. That prediction proved to be true, although four close matches marked the attempts of Phi Kappa and Lambda Chi to halt the fast-moving Beta Mu. Bob Smith was individual champion.

An athletic advancement which merits whole-hearted praise is the excellent organization and achievement of the Tennis Club. For the first time since intercollegiate sports were abandoned here, a varsity Florida Southern net squad was pitted against other Southeastern colleges.

George Reeves, club president, and Bob Smith, team captain, are largely responsible for the admirable record of six victories, two defeats and one tie.

The first sport of the women's intramural program, volleyball, brought to light many promising athletes among the new students. Gerry Moody, Merle Edenfield, Elsie Pelton, Lella Rice, Clara Nell Scott, and Alice Roper proved to be the most outstanding of the newcomers. The volleyball tournament reached its climax when the Alpha Chis clinched the championship by a hard-fought victory over the Independents.

Players who were selected on the all-star team were Robin Calhoun, Betty Howard, Lorena Long, Clia Metralte, Sally Osborne, Elsie Pelton, Elizabeth Thompson, and Edith Whittington.

...and, perhaps, the most surprising upsets in the series came when Delta Zeta whipped the school off the championship in football.

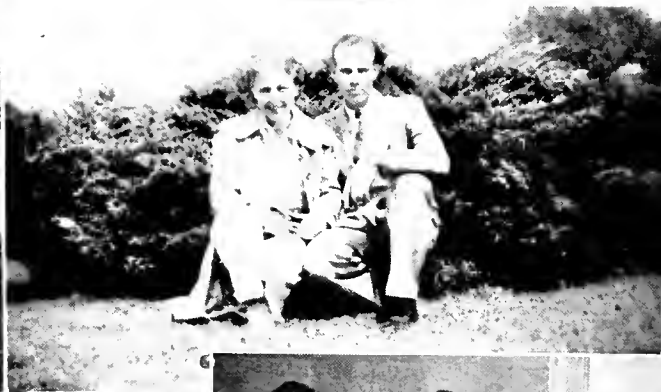

Speedball, a contest inferior to the English game, Rugby, was the next sport on the women's schedule, Alpha Chi Omega again being the champions. Frequent injuries of a minor nature occurred when swinging fists missed their target, including on the skirts of both teammates and opponents.

The winning streak of Alpha Chi remained unbroken in the next sport, badminton, as the champions took their fourth consecutive trophy. Independents, Kappa Gamma Tau, and Delta Zeta followed in the given order. In the individual tournament, Lorena Long and Nellie Weaver battled their way to the final round, with Lorena winning the match.

The Independents revived their fighting reputation by swamping Alpha Chi in the final table tennis match to win their first championship of the year. In the individual play-off, Lorena Long took a hard-fought contest from Rahun Colhoun.

During the remainder of the sports schedule, such sports as shuffleboard, basketball, foul shooting, archery, tennis, and softball have kept the students active.

Science is a perfect art."--Kagawa.

REASONS FOR CREMATION

CREMATION is permanent and complete, effecting in a little over an hour that which it takes years to do if the body is buried.

CREMATION provides the solacing thought for the loss of loved ones that their mortal frame is secure from neglect or desecration.

CREMATION leaves no graves to be tended or, as more generally is the case, neglected. Amidst a comforting atmosphere, cremation is carried out indoors, and does not expose the mourners to the inclemency of the weather.

CREMATION is within the reach of all and combines efficiency with economy.

AS KEEN AS DAMASCUS STEEL!

THROUGH the centuries, Damascus, a city in Syria, became famous for its finely tempered steel, used in the manufacture of weapons.

Knights in armor, Crusaders, famous duelists of history—often credited their success, their very lives, to the quality of Damascus steel in the swords they carried.

Today, in the business world, an employer selects his assistants with the conscientious care of a Knight of old in the selection of his weapons.

Your energy, your ideas and abilities must be as keen as Damascus steel—if you are to become an efficient part of the business world. Utilize your education; apply it practically—and you will be successful.
